PRESS RELEASES:
[illegible] TOKK (Apr. 1): The United Nations today sent a peace-keeping mission to the Danube.

MADRID (May 10): The loyal government of His most humble Majesty Alfonso XII begins by sending our expressions of deepest sorrow to the British government on the death of her beloved Queen, Victoria. We further wish to express our horror at the uncalled for invasion of our neutral territory by France against the wishes of HIS HOLINESS, THE POPE. We see however that the army of occupation is enjoying the traditional Spanish pleasures, having in turn been conquered by the grace and beauty of our maidens. Finally, we challenge all loyal Catholic countries to unite in attacking our erring brothers in the Faith, to the north. José Filip

VIENNA (Jan. 1): Waltz lessons will be given by invitation only.

LONDON (Feb. 14): The following is a letter received by the British Embassy in Stockholm, Sweden:

"The oppressed people of Sweden expect the first action of Britain to rid the Swedish nation of all forces of evil, namely, the Nazis in Stockholm. The government of Sweden occupies the British call for peace and freedom in Europe and asks that every effort be made to liberate the Swedish people in the name of all Swedish patriots at the earliest possible moment."

The government of Britain acknowledged the Swedish plea for freedom, and, as the liberator of all oppressed peoples, began at once to the British Foreign Office considered it their duty to free the Swedish people from the suspicion of Nazism.

LONDON: All hopes of seeing the official Vienese waltz [illegible] were dashed today when it was announced that the Spring Ball to be held in Vienna in the Fall 1943.

LONDON: Any further move by the English to close the door on Southern Europe the Adriatic shall be considered an act of war.

PARIS (Apr. 1): The finest truffle crop in the history of the department of Eure-et-Loir, Seine and Truffle production authorities announced that 200 tons of truffles (approximately 15,000,000), valued with French francs and "Gold-Lined Re-Gold-Plated-Studded-With-Diamonds-Inlaid-Enriched", have been sent to the German nation as a token of understanding between France and Germany. The [illegible] hoped that the Nazi war would find a good use for the "delicacies of the earth". The French government couldn't.

BERLIN (Apr. 2): The Czar of Russia, after learning of France's gift to the German nation truffles, said, "Very interesting, but at what cost".

VIENNA (Apr. 3): The Kaiser of Austria-Hungary, after learning of France's "Last Well Spent" gift to Germany, truffles, is reported that the German army turned the truffles at the Italian [illegible]. She then went on to say, "If they don't like our [illegible], they can send them to us and we'll throw them at the Nazis!"

LONDON (Apr. 3): In a joint statement today the British foreign minister and the chief [illegible] Palace said, "What, pray tell, is a truffle?"

ROME (Apr. 3): The Italian foreign minister announced today that the commanding officers of the Italian forces in Africa were in a huddle over the French gift to the German nation. He wasn't sure whether a truffle was delighted to a truffle.

LONDON (Apr. 4): In a joint statement today the British foreign minister and Sir E. [illegible] (of Oxford Pocket Dictionary fame) said, "What, pray tell, is a truffle?"

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Jan. 2): In a surprise New Year's Day statement, President Roosevelt today announced his conversion to the Black Muslim faith. Taking the name of "Mohammed X", the President announced his intention of declaring a holy war.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Jan. 15): The Secretary today announced the deportation of all Jews to Germany. Said the Pres.:

"The sympathetic feelings I have for the people towards the Jews are well known, so they should suffer no hardship. Perhaps the German government would even create an independent Jewish state."

[illegible] (July 1): [illegible] Laurier today announced the creation of [illegible] provinces from [illegible] of the Northwest Territories. The two provinces [illegible]:

1) Saskatchewan: [illegible] that area North of the 52nd parallel [illegible] to Lake Winnipeg and North of the Yukon River East of Lake Athabasca to Hudson Bay and South of the 60th parallel. Capital is to be Prince Albert.

2) Assiniboia: [illegible] comprising the area bounded by Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and the United States. The capital is yet to be announced, [illegible] reports claim it at either Ralston, Moosetown, or Regina.

Guess what, people, we've got a[illegible] war on our hands. From Attorney Our Chronicler (reporting from [illegible]):

While war tore the fabric of Earth 1, there was another world, Earth 2, in which all was [illegible]--the great Emperor lay peaceful, reigning in prosperity. But within, like some treacherous turpitude, seething. A world lay ripe for revolution. And when the mighty fell, from the [illegible] of the food fights, over the loss, came the professional ////////// within them. Torn in that cruel strife, the big sewer were turned over by their rear, blue-, turquoise-, blue-, green-, white-, and yellow-chested he[illegible]:

Lord, [illegible] an instrument of Your peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy.

O DIVINE MASTER, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as reneroThis week's NEMEDIATINGS is dedicated to those selfless models of ideal Christian generosity, the Russians.

October 28: To quote Lake and Nelson, "We're S.I.C."

A physicist had twin children, whom he could never tell apart. One day he set out to discover some difference between them. He applied spectroscopic analysis to their eye and hair colour, weighed and measured them. And sure enough-- the boy was two centimeters shorter than the girl.

Being inspired by my Statistical Mechanics 472A class, I decided to investigate the statistical distribution ofthe spelling of my name on the various SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN 's I have accumulated over the last four odd years (these being bought at Mill's brothers in Prince Albert). The results are as follows:

	grabener	Grabenor	Grabner	Grabeneur	none
	20	5	4	4	14
OR	42.5%	10.6%	8.5%	8.5%	29.9%

Starting with this issue , THE PHYSICAL ILLNESS will revue one or more science fiction or -fantasy books each edition. For the first while, we'll concentrate on Robert A. Heinlein.

BOOK 1: Podkayne of Mars

If you are planning a space flight and haven't read this book yet, you should. It is excellent trainig for fighting down the nausea (and physicsl illness) that accompanies free-fall. This is the trashiest work yet put out by a usually excellent writer. Unless you are planning to take this space flight or are under 12, don't bother reading it. It sinks.
